Digitalisation is not new with proliferation of digital devices and platforms over the past decade, however, Covid-19 has hasten the pace of adoption and has turned online into the new norm. This brings about new and evolving opportunities for cyber-attacks. Just in the first half of 2022, Trend Micro blocked the highest number of email, business email compromise, and malicious URL threats in Asia, recording nearly eight billion threats, with over six billion coming from email threats alone.

In Asia, Singapore is among the top countries in which Trend Micro blocked the highest number of such threats:

Threat type	No. of threats blocked by Trend Micro
Email threats	788,191,351
Malicious URL hosted threats	5,926,116
Malicious URL access threats	34,290,448

Thus cybersecurity awareness is now part and parcel of our basic IT/internet knowledge, at school, at work and at play. In this session held by Trend Micro and AiSP, our cybersecurity experts from Trend Micro will share with you what is CyberSecurity all about from phishing to ransomware and what does it take to protect yourselves from cyber threats.

At the end of the webinar, participate in our kahoot quiz to put a test to your cybersecurity knowledge and win cool swags!
